MINE RESCUE AND TRANSPORT ENDORSEMENT COURSE GRADUATES

Victoria Gold extends its sincere congratulations to the Company's recent graduates of the Mine Rescue and Transport Endorsement Course.

The Mine Rescue Course provides participants with knowledge and skills training in the rescue procedures to be followed in the event of an incident at either an underground or surface mining operation; in the case of the Eagle Gold Mine. The Mine Rescue and Transportation Endorsement Course prepares participants with the skills and knowledge needed to transport injured or ill workers to medical aid.

"Congratulations to all our Mine Rescue and Transport Endorsement Course graduates," says Victoria Gold President & CEO John McConnell. "On behalf of the Company, we truly appreciate your dedication to health and safety and admire your perseverance in pursuing and completing this important training."

"The course graduates' commitment to advancing their skills and knowledge in these critical areas is truly commendable," says course instructor, Health and Safety Emergency Response Coordinator

Adam Moyle. "The successful completion of these courses not only reflects dedication. It also positions the graduates as valuable contributors to safety and efficiency in our industry."

The 2024 Victoria Gold Mine Rescue and Transport Endorsement Course graduates are:

- Maxx Bouillon – Mine Operations
- Kayla Wilks – Mine Operations
