OLD-TIMERS' LUNCHEON SERIES

Each year, the Association of Mineral Explorers (AME) hosts a luncheon at the annual Roundup conference for industry 'old-timers'; those individuals at least 70 years of age who have made a significant contribution to the mineral exploration community.

In 2022, Victoria Gold President & CEO John McConnell approached AME with the idea of hosting a series of old-timer's luncheons throughout the year (instead of only once a year) to continually connect and stay involved in the industry.

Since then, in addition to the traditional January Roundup gathering, Victoria Gold is honoured to sponsor seasonal old-timers' luncheons in the spring, summer and fall as well.

"These get-togethers are such a wonderful opportunity for those who helped build our industry to connect and reflect," says McConnell. "We are so pleased to support these seasonal luncheons and truly enjoy being privy to the shared stories, wisdom and history of those who came before us."

"By recognizing our past and the people who helped shape our industry, we can be better prepared for our future," adds McConnell. "The ingenuity demonstrated by these individuals during their careers is inspiring and we look forward to upcoming gatherings over a shared meal and a shared love of our industry."

The next AME Old Timers' Luncheon will take place at Roundup on Wednesday, January 24 in Vancouver and participation is by invitation through AME.
